Maria Mitchell

Learn about the many women represented at the International Women's Air & Space Museum (IWASM) and the important role they played in aerospace. See character portrayals of Bessie Coleman (the first African-American woman pilot) and Maria Mitchell (the first woman astronomer and professor at Vassar College) whose monologues will help us celebrate women's achievements.

11 a.m.: Presentation by Connie Luhta & Joan Hrubec, representatives of the IWASM

1 p.m.: Character Monologues presented by Women in History
